Individual Examinee Standard Scores

These scores should be interpreted with caution. The ACAT is intended to evaluate an entire group of graduating seniors. The accuracy of scores for individual students, particularly in the separate content areas, is limited. The overall performance score is illustrative of the general performance of each student. Individual student performance can be expected to vary across administrations of the same test and can be affected by numerous factors, including motivation and the circumstances under which the test is administered. PACAT Incorporated does not recommend the use of these scores for making decisions about the academic achievement of individual students. Institutions using the scores for individual evaluation should take these limitations into account.
